I appreciate getting these emails from Kimi, so that I can generally stay abreast of this matter. But, we should figure out who should be the ORC manager lead on this between the two of us. I realize that I've had some meetings with Kimi and Mai on Pavillion, but given that it's Kimi's work, and energy work, it's yours to manage and I don't want to steal it away. Let me know how you want to proceed.

If you want to manage this, that's great, but let's find some things to come off your plate. I'm getting that sense that you have too much work right now. It's fine to prioritize; you don't have to do it all (and can't).
